

MODULAR®

On-Site Specialist Mining Engineer

Location : Jwaneng, Botswana

Reporting into: Manager, Customer Services

In this specialized role, you will provide mining consulting services like data analysis and interpretation, work on specialized projects that involve identifying continuous improvement opportunities and applying Modular suite of products and tools to highlight potential productivity improvements.

Educational Requirement: BS Degree in Mining Engineering and 5 years experience in a similar organization of a mine site

Required Skills:

- Strong understanding of mining processes and systems
- Sound knowledge of mining practices and understanding of bench marks and industry practices.
- Strong analytical skills and problem solving abilities are required.
- Able to look at a mine site understand their processes / practices and able to identify potential improvement areas substantiated by data using Modular's products such as Dispatch®, Provision® and PowerView®.
- Ability to interact with mining customers, interpret their requirements and present suitable solutions using modular range of products and tools.
- Good level of skills and passion for technology and learning are a must.
- Interpersonal skills are also very important as you will have customer interaction.
- Some familiarity in using generic databases and analysis tools including internally developed tools (training will be provided).
- Professional report writing, presentation and verbal communication skills

Additional skills that will be given special consideration:

- Project management skills, if require to manage continuous improvement projects at customer site.
- Training customers on Dispatch System use and administration, interpretation of data from system audits if need arises.
- Basic understanding for Linux and comfortable in use of basic commands desirable
- Experience in the administration or operating of a Fleet Management system

Other Requirements:

- Must be willing to relocate to Jwaneng, Botswana
- Contract will be initially for 12 months

How to apply:

- If you have the experience, vision and drive to meet the challenges of this position we encourage you to please submit your resume. Salary is commensurate with experience and level of education. To apply, please submit a completed internal job application form (signed by your manager) along with your resume to Global Human Resources at globalhr@mmsi.com .To recommend external candidates, please be sure to submit a completed employee referral form to Global HR BEFORE providing any information about the candidate to Modular. Application deadline is the 22nd December 2011